

REINVENTING THE WHEEL

A young woman with swollen, arthritic-looking knuckles, furiously texting, non-stop for half an hour.

At 85, will she be able to even pick up her phone?

Technology to the rescue!

Voice recognition software will translate her voice to text.

The recipient's phone then translates text to voice, for the person whose sight suffers from years of staring at a phone screen.

—Dick Wenkel

Known by Heart Poetry Posters, 2017. Design: Slow Dog Studios.

Text: ©Dick Wenkel

Made possible by John S. and James L. Knight Foundation, Saint Anthony Park Community Foundation,

Trillium Family Foundation and Friends of the Saint Paul Public Library.

Distribute freely, but please give credit.